

The World Whirls On

By JIM WOOLDRIDGE

From last week's war on the sea, the European spotlight has now shifted to war in the air. Beginning Tuesday, there has been at least one German air raid on the British Isles every day. The Nazi attacks have been directed at the naval bases in northern England and Scotland, also at the British fleet in the North Sea. "A few more weeks of this," says a Berlin official, "and what will be left of the royal navy? England will no longer be mistress of the seas!"

While Londoners were thus learning to be grateful for their eternal fog, the situation on the western front continued to remain in a state of apathy. The early winter rains were beginning to fall, turning the fields into guaguines and the rivers into raging torrents. An attack by the Nazi forces now would be futile in the opinion of most military strategists. They say that both armies will probably retire to shelter of their elaborate underground fortifications and wait until circumstances are more favorable for a sustained offensive. Despite this probability, the French have doubled their watches so as not to be caught napping.

The Allies received one cheerful note, however, when word was received that Turkey had broken off her treaty negotiations with Russia and was ready to sign far-reaching mutual assistance pacts with both of the democratic powers. The reason for the break was reported to be a refusal on the part of Turkey to grant the Soviets exclusive use of the Dardanelles. A closure of these straits to the ships of France and England would leave Rumania and Yugoslavia in the doubtful mercy of Joseph Stalin and Adolf Hitler who is badly in need of Rumanian oil.

Another cheerful note came from Moscow to the United States, in answer to an earlier plea from President Roosevelt asking that Russia respect the territorial integrity and independent sovereignty of Finland in the current negotiations between the two countries, the Soviet foreign office gave its assurance that the conference was proceeding on strictly friendly terms and that an agreement acceptable to both parties would be the result.

Also concerned with the Russo-Finnish parleys was a conference of the Scandinavian powers meeting in Stockholm to consider the present conditions in eastern Europe. Engaged in the transactions were the heads of four countries, King Haakon of Norway, King Christian of Denmark, King Gustaf of Sweden, and President Kallio of Finland. They were said to be considering mutual alliances against invasion when the negotiations opened Wednesday.

At the same time, diplomatic relations between Germany and Russia were strengthened by the receipt of 17 million dollars in gold by the Nazis from their new ally. Official circles in Berlin say that such economic assistance will be interactive between the two powers for the remainder of the war, if necessary. MORE

LAST MINUTE FLASHES:

BERLIN—The official war communiqué announced last night that the army on the western front had launched a drive which drove the Allied forces back into French territory and stopped there. The announcement contained the implication that the Nazi military machine could have advanced farther, with ease. Hearing this report, diplomatic circles were of the opinion that Hitler is being unusually gentle toward France because he intends another peace move to his old enemy, but this time he will approach England. It is said that act of leniency is part of a gigantic scheme to wean the French from the Allied cause, for Hitler is beginning to realize that it would be easier to attack the British fleet, as he has been doing recently with marked success, than it would be to attempt to break through the gigantic Maginot line.

Graham Groll, A & S sophomore—"A field house."

Bert Cooper, Law senior—"Air condition the Law building and the Union building."

Marcia Wood, A & S sophomore—"A swimming pool."

Glenis Sellers, Commerce freshman—"I'd open a student operated book store."

Harold Baker, Commerce sophomore—"I'd give it to the Booster's club to bring more first class football players to Kentucky."

First Wildcat-Bulldog Tilt Is Slated Saturday In Louisville

Special Trains Arranged, Tags Printed By SuKy

Pep Rally, Songfest To Be Held Tonight In Louisville

SuKy, working overtime to help bring victory to the Cats in Louisville tomorrow, has not only arranged two special trains for Kentucky students, but has had "Beat Georgia" tags printed. These tags will be sold at a cost of five cents, and the proceeds will be used to help defray the expenses of the University band.

The first train for Louisville will leave at 8:30 a. m. Saturday and will start the return trip from Louisville at 10:30 that night. The second train leaves Lexington at 10:30 a. m. and will return at 12:30 Saturday night. This will be a Chesapeake & Ohio train, while the first train will be on the L & N line. On the C & O train the SuKy has gained the refreshment concession and will sell soft drinks, and candy. The price of a round-trip ticket will be $1.50.

In Louisville a program has been arranged which will begin with a parade at 7:30 tonight, followed by a pep rally in Lincoln park at 8:30. The parade will feature Kentucky's "Best Band in Dixie" and several Louisville high school bands. During an intermission of the Casa Madrid dance at midnight tonight, a rally featuring the Wildcat songs and yells will be held.

The "Beat Georgia" tags will be sold by SuKy members and try-outs in Lexington until 10:30 a. m. tomorrow and will be sold in Louisville both before and during the game. SuKy try-outs are to meet Bill Elder today at 12:30 at the information desk in the Union to get their tags.

Hammock Elected Y Club President

YWCA and YMCA Freshman club officers for the coming year are Henry Hammock, president; Virginia Williamson and Bob Ammons, vice-presidents; and Edna Mason Burton, secretary. They were elected at a meeting held Tuesday, in the Y lounge of the Union.

A panel discussion preceded the election led by Dorothy Hillemeier, president of the Union board, speaking on Union activities; Mary Lou McFarland, president of AWS, talking on the former University student government; Bart N. Peak, executive secretary of the YMCA, speaking on "Traditions and Growth of the University"; John Morgan, president of ODK, presenting campus organizations; and L. T. Iglehart, editor of The Kernel, discussing the form of student government, emphasizing freshmen participation.

Bicknell Joins Cast Of Guignol Drama

Arthur Bicknell, varsity basketball manager and Phi Kappa Tau member, this week stepped into the Guignol's "You Can't Take It With You" cast to play the role of Paul Sycamore, the quiet, unassuming man of the house who offends his quiet manner by making fire-works in the basement of his home—fire-works which go off at odd moments throughout the play.

Bicknell is a Commerce college senior, from Fitchburg, Mass. He has appeared in two other Guignol productions: "Tovarich" and "April Interm.".

"You Can't Take It With You" will open October 30 for a week's run; reservations for seats are now being taken at the box office. This production with Clarence Geiger as associate director, opens the campus little theater's twelfth season under Professor Fowler's direction, and will feature a generous mixing of faculty, students, and townspeople in its cast.

Jobs Open

Any older man student who can work from 8 a. m. until 11 a. m. on Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Saturdays is asked to see Dean T. T. Jones in his office immediately. Also any seniors from Pike county who are graduating in February are asked to see Dean Jones.

PR Dance Planned

Pershing Rifles will hold the first formal dance of the year November 18 in the Bluegrass room of the Union.

The presentation of Sponsor Mary Louise Weisenberger to the company will be a feature. Admission will be $1.00.

CAGE PRACTICE SET FOR MONDAY

First Game Scheduled For December 9

Although workouts have been held for several weeks, the first official call for varsity basketball material will be sounded Monday afternoon by Coach Adolph Rupp, who in eight years of coaching at Kentucky has produced four conference champion teams.

The most serious problem facing Coach Rupp, as he begins preparation for one of the most ambitious schedules ever listed for Kentucky, is to uncover a replacement for his All-America guard of last year, Bernie Opper. Last year Opper led Kentucky through a very successful year that was topped by annexing the Southeastern conference title. To fill the vacated guard post Coach Rupp will have Lee Huber, a sensation as a sophomore last year, Layton Rouse, twice a letter winner, Carl Staker, a fine offensive threat, Marvin Akers, up from the freshman team of last season, Hoot Combs and Emmett Nelson.

The forwards expected to report include Keith Farnsley, a regular last year as a sophomore, Don Orme and Walter White, from the exceptionally powerful "lost battalion" of last year, Lloyd Ramsey, Jim Mathewson, Harry Denham and Erma Allen. The centers include 13 feet of Clugless, 6 feet 8 inch Marion and 6 feet 4 inch Stan, Jim King, who led the Kitten team through a good season last year, will also be on hand.

Left without a captain since Jim Goodman, cap-elect, has been declared scholastically ineligible, the Cats will open their 18 game schedule December 9 in Alumni gym against Georgetown college. The bookings include eight home games with a similar number to be played away.

Agricultural Frosh Attend Convocation

Opportunities In Field Cited By Morgenson And Moore

A special convocation of all freshmen agricultural students was held in Memorial hall, Thursday morning, at which time the opportunities for students in the agricultural and home economics departments were discussed.

Following group singing, Frances Morgenson and Leslie Moore outlined the possibilities for achievement in the home economics and agricultural departments, respectively. Gerald Shaffer, state president of the 4-H clubs, spoke on the activities of the various Kentucky clubs.

At the conclusion of the program, each freshman was assigned a faculty adviser.

Resourceful Prop Department Finds Xylophone And Snakes

By JOHN SAMARA

Wanted: Firecrackers, snakes, a xylophone, a hand printing press, a set of darts, a couple of dozen statuettes, a few old-fashioned pictures and lots and lots of other pieces of pro-brac.

Sounds like a grand-scale scavenger hunt or a campaign to start a museum, doesn't it? Yet that, and more, was the list of necessary props handed to the University students working in Guignol's prop department for the forthcoming Kaufman and art play, "You Can't Take It With You" which will open October 30.

This was a typical assignment for these trojans of the theatre who seem never to be stumped, no matter what the task. And yet, when the curtain comes down on opening night, the audience will probably go away satisfied that they have seen a Pulitzer-prize-winning play, little realizing that they have missed half of the show—the half that goes on behind the scenes.

Preparations for a guignol play are usually begun about six weeks before the opening. Characters are selected and students assigned to look after other departments of production such as stage, lighting, props, and costumes. Graduate Assistant Clarence Geiger usually (Continued on Page Five)

SALE OF TICKETS FOR TALK BEGINS

Senator Nye To Speak On Neutrality

Tickets for Senator Gerald P. Nye's lecture Thursday, November 2, in Memorial hall have been placed on sale at the information desk in the Union building by the student welfare committee of the University Women's club, which will use the proceeds in student aid projects at the University.

Senator Nye, chairman of the committee which investigated the munitions industry, will speak on "Neutrality and Experience."

No seats will be reserved for the lecture and no tickets will be sold at the door. Mrs. E. G. Trimble, chairman of the committee, announced yesterday. Ticket sales will close Saturday, October 28.

Members of Mortar Board will assist the club by selling tickets on the campus.

Student welfare and hospital committees of the University Women's club, composed of faculty women and wives of faculty members, each year carry on a program of assistance for University students. Last year was the first year the committee has existed. Approximately $150 was loaned in small non-interest loans.

Through the offices of the deans, loans of $10 and $15 help to cover costs of books, medical care, registration, and similar expenses, and are paid back in small installments. At the present time, all loans have been completely repaid, or are now being paid. Mrs. E. G. Trimble, chairman of the student welfare committee said. The committee also helps secure odd jobs, clothing, and text books.

The hospital committee looks after out-of-town students in the hospital and arranges for visits from their parents. A committee also works in conjunction with the YM and YW. Mrs. C. G. Latimer is president of the club and Mrs. E. F. Farquhar is chairman of the hospital committee.

Song Sought

Betty Jane Brewer, music chairman, is sponsoring a contest for a Patterson hall song. The words must be original, but any tune may be used. The contest is open to Patterson hall women only. A prize is being offered for the best song. Songs should be submitted to the chairman.

Platforms Declared At Mass Meeting Of 500

What started as a political rally last night ended up as a smear session between fraternities on one side and the Greek haters among the Independents on the other. The issues had been discussed, the platforms outlined, the fanfare ended.

Then Alan Vogler, master of ceremonies, admitted a speaker from the floor, Harry Roberts. Roberts wound up warmly, finally lashed out furiously at Robert Stone whose letter, urging Independents to vote as they chose regardless of candidates' association backing, appeared in Tuesday's Kernel.

He said that the letter was merely begging for votes for the fraternity clique's men regardless of whether the men were "Grumpy Clark or . . ."

VOTING INFORMATION
Voting for president, men's vice president, and women's vice president of the student body will be held from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. in the Union building. All students may vote for their choice for president, but only men for men's vice president, and only women for women's vice president.

The polling will be conducted by the Men's Student council and the executive committee of the Association of Women Students.

A majority of votes must be cast for one candidate for each office. If a majority is not given to one candidate, a run-off election will be held.

As soon as Roberts had said his piece, Jimmy Gordon jumped to the platform, countered that the fraternities were the ones who had always sponsored all progressive measures. He further declared that before the formation of the Independent association, fraternities and sororities had invited the unaffiliated to attend the campus fraternity dances. He wound up by stating that regardless of backing, the Constitutionalists' had the best candidates and would win Monday's polling.

Peter Gragis sprang to his feet, roundly denouncing fraternities, accused them of "vandalism" and of using "violence" whereas the Independent association attempted to enlist members at the registration line at the beginning of the semester. Frequently drowned out by laughter from the audience, Gragis lashed out at his former association members, Schildkraut, and Hunter, who is the Student Government ticket's presidential candidate for leaving the Independent association. Conference Fray To Start At 2 p.m. On Du Pont Field

By JOE CREANON, Kernel Sports Editor

No longer the scrawny football tabbies of last year, Kentucky's snarling Wildcats, for the first time in history, will face the Georgia Bulldogs in a Southeastern Conference battle tomorrow afternoon on duPont Manual field in Louisville.

Since the bout is considered a "home" game for the Cats, student ticket books will be honored at gate 5 and seats will be reserved in the north stands in sections 23, 24 and 25. The zero hour is set for 2:00 p. m.

Expecting a battle as epic as Ooster's last stand, some 17,000 far-sighted ticket holders are predicted to pass the turn-stiles. For the Cats, winners of three successive starts, the game will afford a chance to take a long stride along the trail that leads to "come-back" land. On the other hand, the Bulldogs will be fighting to pull from a two game losing rut.

The game is as natural as freckles on a country boy's nose since both coaches, Ab Kirwan of Kentucky and Wallace Butts of Georgia, formerly directed rival Louisville high school teams at Manual and Male, respectively. While the two men were at the Louisville schools, where the rivalry is keener than a headhunter's ax, Coach Kirwan's Manual teams were defeated twice in three games played against Butts' teams. Both coaches left Louisville in 1937 and both were followed to their new positions by boys who played under them in high school. Two Louisville products are expected to see action with Georgia while the Cat squad enlists 10 Falls City performers.

Georgia Disappoints
Georgia has been as disappointing as wet gun powder so far this season in losing two of three games and the true strength of the Bulldogs is still a mystery. However, most of the critics believe that the Cats will like that sort of mystery story and, for the first time in years before an important game, smile on the Kentucky cause by from one to three touchdowns.

In their first start the Bulldogs chewed the Citadel for a 20-0 win but then slipped into a reverse-English win streak that lost to Furman and Holy Cross by scores of 20-0 and 13-0, respectively. The Georgia backfield is reported to be stronger than a double dose of nitroglycerine but the line, in the other games, has leaked like a sieve. But with their injured players back ready for service the Bulldog forward wall is expected to be in its best condition of the year tomorrow.

Passes Due To Fall
If advance information is correct, Georgia will present a flashy passing offense with dead-eyed Billy Mims pitching the lead to Kelt-

There Comes A Time When All Is Said

There comes a time in every man's life, just as in every organization's life, when it is felt that almost everything has been said about a given subject that can be said. The KERNEL feels something like that about Monday's election. Most of the candidates have debated platforms and those platforms although we frankly expected several broad, glowing, meaningless generalizations, are remarkably good. The candidates themselves are capable and responsible. Elsewhere in today's paper is a complete account of issues and personalities. The only additional necessary remark for a successful election is this: Every student should vote, and for the candidate of his own choice, in order to insure truly representative officers. We've made the remark. Now it's your turn.

Dear Professor, It's Like This:

After Dorothy Hillenmeyer and her crew of Union board members worked their collective fingers to the bone in addressing invitations, planning posters, and sweetening the punch for the big student-faculty reception in the Union, it was rather disappointing, even disheartening, to notice the meager sprinkling of faculty members about the floor of the ballroom.

A brave handful of the old standbys were there to greet and mix with the equally courageous students. There wasn't an overflow of students, either, but even at that they made a better showing than their (timid? very busy? disinterested?) instructors. It must have been embarrassing to the board members when they were asked by students if the University faculty was holding a convention in Milwaukee that night.

Now, professor, this is to you. We've probably taken our grade-life into our own hands by saying so, but you and your other missing colleagues made a pretty bad showing. And how can you expect us students to sit on the same log with you if you're not on the log—if you show us your absence that you have very little more than an academic interest in us? Next time take that invitation home to your wife (husband). She (he) might have been interested in the reception; you know how women (men) like social life. And if you don't have a wife (husband), you should have come anyway. You were the one who was expected to break the ice.

A Toast To SuKy And The Freshmen

The Colonel lifts his mint-crested julep-glass in a toast to SuKy and the University's freshman class. For two seasons now, we have been struggling with the unpredictable machination known as a "card section," and last Saturday this year's crop of neophytes really got the hang of it.

The thing looked good. Of course there was an occasional flash of red in a strictly blue and white pattern, but then you can't have everything.

Yep, the Colonel is looking forward to seeing those fellows perform tomorrow at Louisville. It seems they have, like the Wildcats, finally got in the groove.—J. C.

The Place To Air Your Complaints

From a University enrollment which reaches nearly four thousand, a representative group has demanded self-expression in student government. Yet students neglect to offer timely criticisms to proper University authorities.

Rumors of dissatisfaction with methods of operating the Union repeatedly have reached the ears of Union board members and directors. Now the governing board is inviting students, with criticisms or suggestions to offer, to drop in from two to three o'clock any afternoon except Saturday or Sunday at Room 127 in the Union.

The Board really wants these criticisms and promises to consider them carefully. It is the student's privilege as well as his duty to voice his complaints or plans to this group. If such an invitation is ignored, further rumors and criticisms must likewise be ignored.—L. C.

Behind The Eckdahl

By ANDREW C. ECKDAHL

Well, we see the Louisville Times' Tom Wallace is at it again. He popped off at a Democratic women's meeting, and there was just enough truth in his statements to make the good sisters plenty sore and now they don't want to let him talk any more.

We're a great admirer of Mr. Wallace. Ever since several years ago when he verbally lambasted some prof at Boonesboro who intimated that Daniel Boone was a phoney we have admired Mr. Wallace. And if things get too hot around Louisville he can always come down here and we'll hide him out.

Women in politics have always irked us. They just don't belong there. Any group that is silly enough to wear those funny things on their heads that women call hats can't know enough to decide what candidate is best. Politics is just one of the many things that is beyond the ken of the female.

As Westbrook Pegler has put it, some twenty years ago the women of this country said, "Give us the right to vote and we'll clean up politics." Well, the men gave them the right to vote. And it is not too soon to be asking, will some ardent advocate of women's rights step forward and tell us just when they are going to start cleaning up politics?

Does anyone know anything about Mr. Booher? asked the professor, as he checked the class roll.

"Booher is sick—been sick since Friday," replied George Booher's fraternity brother, Joe Creason. Then the master of the simile launched into a graphic description of George's illness. It took no great imagination to picture poor George on a hospital bed, his face white and drawn with pain, gasping for an oxygen tent.

At this point, Mr. Booher walked into the classroom.

HOW TO LOSE FRIENDS: When you meet a coed whom you once courted, just say jovially, "Well, how've you been getting along since I lost interest in you?"

When a reporter asked Mrs. Roosevelt if she did not did not think the foreign situation would "almost insure a third term for the President," the First Lady replied that the questioner would have to ask her husband. She said she personally could not see why the present situation would have any bearing on the question.—Lexington Leader.

(Mrs. Roosevelt must be leading a very secluded life.)

Don't Be On The End Of The String

CAMPUSCENE

By JIM CALDWELL

... on the Pyrrhic victory which this generation won over the depression.

Whether it is because of, or in spite of, the fact that we are a part of it, we have acquired a thus far unshakable faith in the present generation of collegians. And we are not alone in this trust; even many oldsters are of the same mind.

For example, a well-known professor on this campus recently expressed the opinion that the youth now enrolled in our nation's universities are the most conscientious he has ever encountered. He didn't say exactly what they were conscientious in, but we suppose he meant it as a compliment.

Obviously, this generation seems to be a great improvement over the Young Men of the Mad Twenties, who had only to worry about clipping coupons and finding the nearest bootlegger. But the depression changed all that, and we are not sure but that it was for the best.

Now collegians are not so cocky; they may even approach the pessimistic outlook, but it is a pessimism that, when analyzed, is found to be only a fear of super-optimism. For some ago they discovered that super-optimism leads to crashes and panics and recessions.

Today's undergraduates possess a pseudo-hidden social conscience, coupled with a bitter hatred of futile strife. With so many labor disputes and so much unemployment so many bombings of civilians going on in this world, such feelings are inevitable. But the realization that evils exist is the fundamental step toward remedying those evils.

But here one finds a line of de-

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor,

At the Cyclopedia Kentucky game there were more attractions than just the game. The cheer-leaders on the students side out-did themselves in supplying entertainment for the spectators. I would like to raise this question "Just what are the duties of the cheer-leaders?" Is it their duty to act in the capacity of court fools or jesters. Is it their duty to entertain the fans with demonstrations of dance steps and the creations of new ones?

I do not mean to condemn the energy of our cheer leaders, but I do feel that the energy would be better used and appreciated if applied to leading cheers. In the above-mentioned game, approximately three cheers were given and those were very feeble. It has not always been so. In the past the crowd has responded to its leaders by cheering loud and would do so again if the leaders would just show the crowd that they are willing to do their share.

The fault lies not in the team because the team this year shows real promise of going places. The fault does not lie in the fans because a crowd is easily swayed and will respond to leadership. This is what we need, leaders who have the desire to sway the crowd and use their energies in so doing.

markation between the desirable and the undesirable.

The cornerstone of the undergraduate's entire mental structure, happily, is a deep-down loathing hypocrisy. But so leery is he of seeming to be that which he is not, that he often leans too far in the opposite direction. The result of which is that "frankness" often becomes downright evidence of "equality" becomes a lack of consideration for the feelings of others, and "individuality" actually is a compromise with the conscience.

Gradual changes of thought relating to matters such as the above undoubtedly are well and good. They are, in a way, progressive moves. But when these changes assume reactionary proportions, then they have become false values, and their advisability is questionable.

It was Booth Tarkington, we believe, who said, "Something fine went out of American life about the same time the automobile came in." Let us hope that future observers will not have to say: "Although it had improved in many ways, something fine went out of American youth about the time the depression came in."

Corner of the Campus — Yet the Center of Activity

To the Editor of the Kernel
We firmly believe that Mary Lou McFarland is the only logical candidate for the office of women's vice-president in the newly established student government. We believe this because Mary Lou has served faithfully in a similar capacity as president of AWS, because she has studied the responsibilities and services demanded by such an office, because she has, by her careful fulfillment of duties, gained the faith and confidence of women students on the campus. Furthermore, she has had practical experience in women's student government as town representative during her junior year, and later as president when she represented the University of Kentucky at the National Conference of Women's Student Government, held in Lawrence, Kansas, last April.

Her attractive personality, her friendliness, and her fidelity in office are known to all. She stands for the highest ideals to be attained in the newly established student government.

Therefore, we firmly believe that Mary Lou McFarland is the only logical candidate for the office of the women's vice-president.

Pedro, the Voder, speaks ...and HOW!

THE VODER, nicknamed Pedro, is an amazing electrical device which actually talks—the first machine in the world to do that!

By pressing keys, singly or in combination, a skilled operator can make Pedro talk in almost human fashion—with varying inflections and in either a man's or a woman's voice.

The Voder is an outgrowth of fundamental research in speech sounds, articulation and voice reproduction being carried on at Bell Telephone Laboratories. Such studies have led—and will lead—to constantly improving telephone service for you.

A telephone call home would be appreciated. Rates to most points are lowest any time after 7 P. M. and all day Sunday.

Social Scene For Week-End Turns Toward Louisville

Alumni Activities To Include Ball, Breakfast

With the dismissal of classes after 10 o'clock on Saturday, the socially minded are turning all eyes to Louisville and the Kentucky-Georgia game. As if the game were not enough to lure even the most ardent book-worms from the library, the Kentucky alumni are making plans for one gala weekend.
Today the Louisville Alumni in cooperation with the Louisville board of trade will entertain with a tea from 4 to 6 p.m. at the Brown hotel for all alumni, students and friends. One of the high lights of the weekend will be the Student-Alumni dance tonight from 10 to 2 in the Casa Madrid ballroom. To make it truly a Kentucky affair the Blue and White orchestra has been imported for the occasion.
Saturday at 11 a.m. the alumni are planning an "Old Kentucky" breakfast to be held in the Crystal ballroom of the Brown hotel for students, alumni, and friends. From all that has been said the food sounds wonderful. Some of the honor guests for the occasion will be Gov. Keen Johnson, Gov. E. D. Rivers of Georgia, Senator A. B. Chandler, Mayor Joseph D. Scholtz of Louisville, President McVey, President Harmon Caldwell of the University of Georgia, Coach Ab Kirwan, Athletic Director Bernie Shively, Coach Wallace Butts of Georgia, Coach Ray Baer of DuPont Manual, Coach Clyde Crone of St. Xavier, and Coach Henry Stovall of Louisville Male high.

FRIDAY
Classes
8 a. m.—12 noon. Ho-hum, classes. Well, you can make the most of it by looking cute and cheerful in a pleated, plaid, wool skirt set off by a yellow "sloppy-Joe" cardigan and a strand of pearls. Now don't be backward, put on these knee-length, yellow wool socks with your saddle oxfords. . . they're being worn on the other campuses. Fix your hair downward, curled at the ends, with a yellow bow at the top. An extra light shade of lipstick blends in perfectly with the colors of your ensemble. Classes aren't so bad after all with the girls dressed so youthfully.

FRIDAY
Classes
8 a. m.—12 noon. Ho-hum, classes. Well, you can make the most of it by looking cute and cheerful in a pleated, plaid, wool skirt set off by a yellow "sloppy-Joe" cardigan and a strand of pearls. Now don't be backward, put on these knee-length, yellow wool socks with your saddle oxfords. . . they're being worn on the other campuses. Fix your hair downward, curled at the ends, with a yellow bow at the top. An extra light shade of lipstick blends in perfectly with the colors of your ensemble. Classes aren't so bad after all with the girls dressed so youthfully.

Sorority Open House
4 p. m.—6 p. m. Uphold your sorority by wearing a green velvet very circular skirt, that whirls when you walk fast, with a light tight jacket to match. Semi-dressy black suede shoes that have a heel comfortable for dancing will be just right. Your hair should still be combed down, but this time set it off by a green bow. Lastly try a dash of lipstick of a crimson "Daredevil" shade.

Date for Dinner and a Show
6 p. m.—11 p. m. Add to your velvet ensemble by topping it with a long black wool coat, with a flaring hem of perhaps ocelot. Slip on a leopard hat, black bag and gloves, and a touch of "Red Velvet" lipstick and you are ready for the evening.

Football Game; Frat Buffet Supper
2 p. m.—7 p. m. Oh, joy, the sun has come out, but it is cooler isn't it? Put on that blue jersey dress with the flaring skirt, they are the rage this fall, and the cute collar and cuffs on the long sleeves are so nicely tailored. That light tan camel's hair coat looks delightful with it, and so warm too. Now for the brown felt hat which looks so sportish, and the brown spectator pumps, pigskin bag and gloves. You're off for a touchdown—we hope.

Formal Dance
9 p. m.—1 a. m. A black transparent velvet prom dress, romantically poised over a crinoline petticoat, and trimmed with a long strand of gardenias, starting at the bodice and slanting down to the full skirt. What could be sweeter? What could be more enchanting? Your hair—let's pin it up on the sides, with tiny curls hanging down the back and clasped together by gardenias. A gardenia dream, no doubt! No jewelry is needed, for your face and dress must be outstanding. Use a "Red Orchid" lip rouge which holds its accent in the dimmed lights. Your evening is bound to be a success.

GEORGIA GAME

ner and Malone, a pair of ends who are so tall they bump the chandlers. Should the Bulldogs take to the air, the game will have more passes than a set of loaded dice for Kentucky is almost certain to mix Erma Allen and Dave Zoeller passes as a camouflage for its powerful running attack.

With but three exceptions, Ed Jacobs, Luke Linden and Larry Spears, the Wildcats, as to physical condition, look as if they might have stepped from a physical culture magazine. Jacobs is definitely out of the game with a ruptured ear-drum, while Linden and Spears are housing bruises that are not expected to keep them on the bench. Bill Tucker, who missed Vanderbilt and Oglethorpe because of injuries, will be ready to help throw the collar on the Bulldogs.

Weights Even
Regarding weights, the two teams are as evenly matched as billiard balls with Kentucky holding an advantage in the line but yielding the upper hand, on the scales, in the backfield. Heading the Georgia backfield revue is Captain Vassh Cate, regarded as the fastest man in football today, and Jim Fordham, plunging fullback.

In an effort to halt these classy backs, Coach Kirwan is expected to bestow starting smiles on practically the same men who have started Kentucky's three previous games. Cat rehearsals during the last week have been exceptionally light in order to reduce injury hazards and with most emphasis being placed on pass defense.

Vin the grape-vine from Louisville comes word that practically all the reserved seat tickets for the bout have been sold indicating a complete sell-out. However, Kentucky students are assured enough seating space ranging from the 50 to the 15 yard line.

Probable starting lineups:
Kentucky: Dardin (185) — LE — Keitner (190) — Spars (200) — LT — Green (205) — Palmer (185) — LG — Johnson (195) — Bailey (200) — C — Hughes (195) — Willoughby (195) — RG — Goodman (190) — Eaker (215) — DE — RT — Williams (200) — McCubbin (195) — RE — Malone (185) or Stageman (180) — Shuler (187) — OR — Brown (180) — Zoeller (180) — LB — Cate (175) — Combs (172) — RH — Mims (170) — Mullins (175) — M — Mims (170) — Isham (175) — FT — Fordham (200)

Chatter Bits

As Told To
GEORGE MARTIN

One evening last week, two lovely Kappas, Helen Babbitt and Margaretta Ratliff, went on a serenading tour. Their escapade ended at Mrs. Gray's boarding house. The gentlemen living there were so taken aback that they immediately concocted a scheme to return the nicety. They called up the social chairman of several sororities and invited them to a birthday party for Mrs. Gray's. The gala affair was to come off Wednesday eve. Dean Jones and Dean Blanding were to act as chaperons. The pay off is that Mrs. Gray didn't have a birthday and no one was there to greet the guests. Bet they had a swell time.

Lots of bust ups have come about here lately: K. D. Nancy Brown and Phil Delt, John Dexheimer are no longer pined. With this we hear also that the Sara Estill-Joe Coger match has burned its last glow. Something has been amiss in this case for quite some time and the spill up does not come as a surprise to those that know them. . . All is not lost, however, for of the two-somes of days gone by we find that Martha Jane Rich is remaining faithful to Delt Orville Patton. Margaret Purdon, though no longer pinned to Billy Young (of the upper drawer Youngs), is making a special visit to Cleveland, Ohio, just to see him.

The Chi Omega's seem to be taking the cow college by storm this year. Three of their Greek sisters are in this department.

Professor Farguhar, of the English department, really embarrassed one James Treadway in principles of literary criticism class. "Mr. Treadway" said the professor. "What do you expect from a kiss?" We don't know what James's response was but we certainly bet it was a tough question to answer. Anyhow it seems as though this question was a bit figurative instead of being literary.

Muriel Wilson is seen quite a lot with Phil Delt, Charlie Vance. The other afternoon, Charlie, was noticed escorting Muriel down town to be fitted for some new riding breeches. . . Wonder which one is being taken for the ride?

Have you noticed the human elevator in Frazee hall lately? Well, George Tognocci is the name of this useful lifting device. George carried the cute little cheer leader, Sarah Fisher (suffering from too much exercise in cheer leading), up and down the stairs of this ancient building. George wishes it to be known that his lifting capacity is 200 pounds. All females under said weight and suffering from stiffness can find the elevator in the lower hall at the beginning of every hour.

Jane Baynham has been receiving calls from a certain young medical physician here in town. She, it is rumored, thinks that he is plenty "cute." Watch out, Frankie, get in there and get things sewed up before its too late. Jim Ramsey came to Lexington last summer to visit a live stock exhibit. He wound up his trip by pinning Marie Eba. Well he does have a taste for good stock to say the least.

Arch Hamilton and Allen Fulmer have gone into the house haunting business. They offer first class house haunting at reasonable prices—see them for details. As a sideline they have formed a new heart-breaking society called: We Bustem Heartums. While their good Sig Chi brother James "Picture" Winc has his nose buried deep in law books, these boys take care of his flames.

Peg (Legs) Tallman says that she inherits her legs from her mother. "Mom's legs," to quote the blond beauty, "are somewhat thicker than mine." She sort of resents being called "Birdlegs" so let's all be sure and not call her that. Think how awful it must seem to be greeted by your friends, by such a name. Who started it anyways? . . . Winkie (Dot) Hilenmeyer also wants people to stop calling her Winkie. Says she, "I have an eye affliction." Boy, I'd say she has. Her eyes don't only trouble her though cause I know of several fellows that her eyes bother. So there too.

Tavner Dunlap, little brother of last year's May Queen has caused many a little girl's heart to take leaps. Maybe he will make a better queen than his brother did. How about this engineers? Will you run him? Two cute freshies who are really getting a rush but don't seem to care a lot are—La Verne Gillon and Eleanor Cullison from Coshockton, Ohio.

Student-Faculty Reception Held

The Union board, assisted by the house and activities committees, gave a student-faculty reception Tuesday night in the great hall of the Union.

In the receiving line were Dr. and Mrs. McVey, James S. Shropshire, and officers of the Union board: Dorothy Hilenmeyer, president; John H. Clark vice-president; and Frances Hanna, secretary.

Music was furnished throughout the evening by Rex Osteen, trombonist, and Mary Virginia Fulcher, soloist, both accompanied by Ann Kirk. Classical records were played by R. W. Berggraf of the University music school. James Powers, assisted by Lillian Moss, was in charge of the music.

Punch was served in the ballroom which was lighted with candles. The purpose of the reception was to help faculty and students get better acquainted.

Student Government Bill Has Greeks, Independent

Hunter, McFarland, Massie To Seek Office

The Student Government ticket, which includes one Independent and two Greeks, announces that it is backed by no particular group other than "those interested in good student government." Its candidates are: for president, Freelon Hunter; men's vice-president, Joe Logan Massie; and women's vice-president, Mary Lou McFarland.

Hunter, an Independent, issues this statement: "To set myself up as qualified for the position of president of the student body is too large a statement to make. Why not let me list my qualifications and let you evaluate them?"

"I am a member of the Men's Student Council, Beta Gamma Sigma (commerce honorary), Patterson Literary society, and am co-chairman of the student art committee. I have been affiliated in the past with the YM, Pitkin club, the 'K' book as co-editor, and in my freshman year was picked as the class's outstanding member. I was a participant in the formation of the student government constitution and am fully convinced of its workability."

Massie, a Kappa Alpha, is a member of Keys, Suky, the YM and the Student Union house committee. He further states his candidacy thus: "I am running in the interest of better student government through honest democracy. I am backed neither by the organized fraternities nor by the organized Independents; yet I am backed by individuals in each."

Mary Lou McFarland, a Kappa Delta, is a member of the YW, Mortar Board, Suky, the Pitkin club, the glee club, choristers, and the AWS. Her statement is as follows: "My reasons for running for the vice-presidency of the new student government are that I know the needs of new government because of experience with past student government and I have worked with both sororities and Independents and I know the campus problems as a whole."

Platform

It is our feeling that the students of the University have long desired and have a right to expect candidates to enter an election standing solely on their fitness for the position in question. We also feel that you students do not relish dictation as to whom you are to vote for any better than you like to have the candidates subject to dictation by one or another clique. To that challenge we, the three candidates of the Student Government Ticket, rise to accept. As evidence of our good faith we proudly present our slogan of "Invest in Unaffiliated Democracy."

Ours is not a ticket designed to throw the balance of power, through splitting of voters, to one or the other side but is a sincere attempt to accept the challenge already mentioned. On this basis we present our platform:

I. The abolition of class or factional action to be achieved not only through an unaffiliated ticket but a workable student democracy and government.

II. A thorough survey of the Honor System to be applied to the University of Kentucky.

III. Qualified leadership for major offices in general with a background of work in several fields.

IV. Campus Planning to achieve:

1) A non-voting student representative on the Board of Trustees.

2) Work toward a cooperative cafeteria.

3) Further beautification of the campus.

4) A more equitable parking system.

5) A telephone exchange for the Women's Dormitories.

6) A centralized Student Employment Bureau to handle all undergraduate jobs.

7) Lower the cost of Student Union Campus Hops.

Harold Schildkraut, Independent, in explaining his withdrawal from the presidential race, and in pledging his support to the candidates of the Student Government ticket, issues the following statement:

"Since the election under new student government has resolved into a war of factions, I feel it necessary to withdraw from the campaign. I am urging everyone to vote for the Student Government ticket which is unaffiliated with party and stands for the principle 'Invest in Unaffiliated Democracy.' The voice of the student body should be responsible to no particular pressure group and not cater to any vested interests. Therefore I implore you to use your vote wisely."

TRY-OUT FOR "VOLPONE"

Try-outs for "Volpone," the Guignol's second production, will be held at 7:30 p. m. Sunday in the theater auditorium. Students, faculty, and staff members are invited to participate in this reading.

Constitutionalists Back Duty, Nash, And Barker

Party Is Successor To Fraternity Combine

The Constitutional party, successor to the old fraternity "combine," offers the following ticket for government association: president, Bill Duty; men's vice-president, Bob Nash, and women's vice-president, Jeanne Barker.

Duty, a senior in the College of Agriculture, is president of Phi Delta Theta social fraternity. He is a member of ODK, Alpha Zeta Agriculture honorary, Block and Bridge, the Committee of 240, Athletic Advisory board, Lances, Patterson Literary society, Pershing Rifles, and is in advanced military.

When queried as to his motive in running for office, Duty issued the following statement:

"If elected, I shall make an honest effort to carry out the principles and develop the ideals of the constitution of the Student Government association. I think that student government now has a firm foundation on which to work, and whatever amendments are needed can readily be added as we grow in experience judgment."

Bob Nash, the men's vice-presidential candidate, is a freshman in the College of Law. He is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, representative of the first year law class, an editor of the 1940 Kentuckian and a member of Beta Gamma Sigma, honorary commerce fraternity. He issues this promise: "If elected, I will endeavor to be a true representative of all students, doing my duty in a conscientious and honest manner so that all may see that their interests are my interests."

Jeanne Barker, a senior in the College of Arts and Sciences, is president both of Alpha Gamma Delta and the Panhellenic board. She is a member of the Mortar Board, Owens, the AWS council, the YW, the Kentuckian staff and Guignol. She comments as follows concerning her candidacy:

"Having served on the committee which drew up the new student government constitution, I feel that I am aware of the advantages as well as the minor faults of the constitution, and by virtue of this knowledge will be able to carry out its principles."

Platform

We, the candidates of the Constitutional party, in order to further progress at the University and to encourage the interest of the student body in its newlyacquired government, do intend, if elected to office, to do our best to bring about the following:

1) We advocate a student voice in matters of curriculum.

2) We advocate a more liberal attitude by University authorities toward class attendance on the part of the upperclassmen, based upon the contention that a student, by the time he has reached the classification of junior, is perfectly capable of determining for himself his own need for attending classes.

3) We advocate a student voice in matters of wages and working conditions and jobs involving student labor.

4) We advocate the construction of a modern, adequate field house and a University swimming pool.

5) We advocate more respect for the just privileges of freshmen.

Independent Association Okehs Uhel Barrickman

Weeks, Campbell Also To Run On Group's Ticket

The Independent association announces these candidates as representing its ticket for the three top-ranking offices of the student government association: president, Uhel Barrickman; men's vice-president, Harry Weeks; and women's vice-president, Lois Campbell.

Barrickman, junior in the arts and sciences college, is a member of the University debating team and is in advanced military. He makes this statement:

"If elected president of the student body, I will endeavor to harmonize the various interests on the campus, so that the general welfare of all the students may be promoted instead of the interests of a partisan few. I shall welcome all constructive criticisms and will endeavor to profit therefrom."

Weeks, senior in the engineering college, is vice-president of Tau Beta Pi (engineering honorary), vice-president of the local chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers, and a member of Lamp and Cross. He issues this promise:

"If elected I will at all times be paramount with me that the interests of the student body be considered and obeyed in preference to any political or personal ambitions I may have."

Lois Campbell, senior in education college, is secretary of Theta Sigma Phi, honorary women's journalism group, editor of the University bulletin, and was on the Kernel staff for two years. She states her motive in running for office thus:

"If I am elected vice-president of the student body, I shall work for the success of our student government plan, for cleaner campus politics, and for a universal interest in campus affairs. Whether or not I am elected, I shall cooperate with the officers and the legislature to do everything possible for the good of the student body."

Platform

The Independent association is concerned in this election with improving undergraduate life and extending all the privileges of undergraduate democracy for the benefit of the student body through all possible support and cooperation from the University senate, the President, the Board of Trustees, and the Commonwealth. Therefore, this organization adopts the following proposals:

1. The Independent association proposes that throughout the student legislature there should come guarantees that, in all student activities, there shall be no discrimination against any student or group of students on the campus.

2. The Independents propose that any upper division student with a minimum 2.0 scholastic standing shall be allowed the privilege of optional class attendance.

3. The Independents promise to use all means and powers of the student legislature to support projects or movements toward an athletic field house, swimming pool, or any additional University improvement.

4. The Independents propose that if a considerable number of students petition for an additional class, or for a new course, that the student legislature welcome petitions from these students for the attention of and action by the proper officials.

5. The Independents propose that information of all awards and trusts which are intended for the benefit of the students be disseminated to the student body.

6. The Independents propose to request from the proper officials that any contemplated increase in student fees or assessments be announced to the student legislature within a reasonable time before such an assessment for an opportunity for the student body to urge any reconsideration deemed necessary by the majority of the legislature.

7. The Independents propose that there be formed a student-faculty council for the mutual discussion of possible methods of raising the standards of administration and teaching in the various departments for the purpose of general University improvement.

8. The Independents propose to support in every possible way the University band.

9. The Independents propose to request from the authorities involved, permission to investigate the advisability of a student-owned and operated book store on the University campus.

Do you know the Kaywoodie Flavor?

Some pipes are "in a hurry"—fast and furious—consume tobacco like a four-alarm fire racing toward a hay-mow. Kaywoodie takes it easy, as a good pipe should. Coaxes out the flavor of your favorite leaf. Makes it mellow. Smooth. Just for fun, we tried to measure this famous but elusive Kaywoodie Flavor in a good tough laboratory exam, and found (1) Kaywoodie's smoke is actually cooler than other pipes, cooler than much semiprecious—never hot or irritating (2) the smoke is what the French call sec—dry and free from bitter juices. So get to know the Kaywoodie Flavor—now! Shown above, No. 66.

SAE AND SIGMA CHI ARE TIED FOR LEADERSHIP IN LEAGUE

Intramural Gridmen Step Into Final Round-Robins

Contenders in the Intramural touch football tournament raced into the final stretch of the round-robin playoffs this week, with standings in the leagues tied up tighter than a sailor's knot. With but eight games left to play, winners are still unknown in four of the five divisions of the tournament.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon, easy winner of the fraternity championship last year, has found a stubborn Sigma Chi team unwilling to yield ground to anyone. As a result, leadership in League I is divided between the two rivals, with each having two victories and no defeats and a scheduled match between them coming up next week. Out of the running, Sigma Phi Epsilon shows a completed record of a single win and two losses and Phi Delta Theta brings up the rear with no conquests in three starts.

The battling Delta Tau Delta hold undisputed rule over League II with their season ledger showing three on the credit side and none in the red ink column. Phi Sigma Kappa is in second place, with Alpha Sigma Phi and Triangle tied for third.

One of the closest races of the tournament is going on in League III where only one game separates the first three teams. The power-

JONES IS THIRD IN SCORING RACE

With his 15 points scored against Oglethorpe last week making a year's total of 22, Junior Jones, Kentucky sophomore halfback, shouldered his way from twelfth to third place in the Southeastern conference scoring race.

Nimble-fingered Ken Kavanaugh, L. S. U.'s candidate for All-American end, took over first place with a total of 30 points. In skyrocketing to the top, Kavanaugh ousted Harvey Johnson of Mississippi State, who failed to score last week.

Dave Zoeller, with one touchdown in the Oglethorpe deluge, moved up one notch to take over fourth place, while Ernie Allen, who scored twice last week, jumped into fifth position.

Individual scoring:

Player	Team	G	T	P	Y
Kavanaugh, L. S. U.		3	5	0	30
Johnson, Miss. St.		4	4	2	26
Jones, Kentucky		3	3	4	22

Powers To Advise

James Robert Powers, arts and sciences junior from Fulton, Ky., was appointed student member of the advisory council of the Athletic Board yesterday by Dr. Frank L. MeVey. The appointment was made from names submitted to President MeVey by the Men's Student council.

A member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Pershing Rifles, co-chairman of the Union music committee, and a letter man in track, Powers will hold his position on the council for two years.

Tickets On Sale At Alumni Office For Breakfast

Tickets for the "Old Kentucky" breakfast, to be held at 11 a. m. Saturday in the Crystal ballroom of the Brown hotel in Louisville for students, alumni, and friends of the University, may be obtained in Lexington from the Alumni Room, 124 Union, Dick Boyd, '36, chairman of the breakfast committee, and Dan Ewing, '36, ticket chairman, have announced. The price is $1 per plate, and those planning to attend are urged to make reservations early.

ful Pi Kappa Alpha squad has three wins with one game left to play. Also with a single match forthcoming, Phi Kappa Tau and Kappa Alpha sport a common record of one loss as against two victories.

Lambda Chi Alpha and Delta Chi lag behind despite the efforts of their smooth working backfields. A scrappy Alpha Tau Omega outfit nosed out Sigma Nu on first downs last night, 6-5 thereby taking undisputed lead of League IV with a standing of three wins and no losses. After Sigma Nu and Kappa Alpha, each with a two victory—one defeat slate, follow, in order, Alpha Gamma Rho and Gamma Tau Alpha.

A battle royal is being waged in the Independent League as Andy Slatt's Independents and the Mitchell A. C. fight tooth and nail for the lead. Right now the surprising Mitchellmen have been undefeated in two matches while the Slatt gridsters, by virtue of a 20-0 trouncing of Ed Barkman's Polecats yesterday, are a close second with two victories and one loss. Spickard's "Has Beens" and the hapless Polecats have been eliminated.

CORRECTION
In Tuesday's issue of The Kernel, it was stated that Sigma Nu had been defeated by Kappa Sigma, 26-0. This was an error, since yesterday, Sigma Nu had played but two games, winning the first from Gamma Tau Alpha on a forfeit and then outrunning Alpha Gamma Rho, 12-0.

TENNIS
Tennis playoffs in both the singles and doubles divisions entered into the second round yesterday with the fields cut to about 50 entries for the singles and 35 for the doubles.

All contestants must play off their matches within the next few days. Senior Manager Cliff Bailey announced. It is important that they look at the schedule sheet in the intramural office to see whom they are scheduled to play. Mr. Bailey said. Games that are not played off immediately will be counted as defaults made by the office.

GUIGNOL PROPS

Students with special talents are assigned to those departments which can best use their talents, while the remainder are delegated to the sections they prefer. For the present play only one set is necessary, as compared to two or three for other shows, but this one presented enough problems. All the walls had to be wallpapered, moldings placed around them, and windows and doors built in.

The costume department, which invariably draws a heavy task, also got off rather easy this time, as the play calls for only one costume, a Russian one. However, this group must also see that the clothes worn by the characters blend with the lighting of the stage and this is no simple task.

The prop department, however, takes top honors for this presentation. Local merchants had to be visited, friends solicited, and finally, homes stripped. One student had a young brother who contributed some model ships, another had a few vases and statuettes lying in the attic, and still another contributed pictures of her mother, grandmother and great grandmother.

A local pawnshop loaned the printing press, a junk shop yielded a handsome chandelier, and a Georgetown high school volunteered a xylophone of the proper size. The firecrackers, too, caused some trouble, as local merchants are forbidden by law to store them. Some one volunteered a bunch which, when tried out, too closely approximated bombs, so finally the propsters were compelled to go out of town to purchase them.

That left only the snakes. A suggestion to borrow some from the zoology department was vetoed when some of the cast objected to live snakes. There was no alternative but to obtain artificial ones. Thereupon, Geiger selected a small group and directed, "Make me some artificial snakes that will act lifelike." And they did!

Xavier

Fifth on the Kentucky schedule, the Muskies were defeated in their season's opener by St. Mary's of Texas, 6-0. Despite individualized play, Xavier bounced into the win column in its next start with a 19-0 win over T. P. I., which held Vanderbilt to a 13-13 tie. Last week, against St. Vincent, Xavier played stubborn defensive ball but failed to score and the game ended 0-0. However, with only three regulars gone from last year's team, 'hat nipped Kentucky by 26-7, the Muskies are potential dynamite that has thus far failed to explode.

Alabama

Coming after the Xavier battle, the Alabama-Kentucky game should be a real thriller. Howard, a greaser, furnished very little resistance in the Tide's first game. Regarded as the underdog against Fordham, the raging Reds eked out a narrow 7-6 win. Mercer got in the way of the Red inundation last week and was flooded by 20-0. It has been proved that the Alabama backs are not of the calibre of former years, so Kentucky, picked at the first of the year to lose to the Tide, may have a very good chance for an upset.

Georgia Tech

The Yellow Jackets gained a moral victory in their opener by holding Notre Dame to a 17-14 score but affirmed the belief that they are weak between the ends. In the next game, gaining nearly 500 yards, Tech swamped Howard by 35-0 to show its offensive power is all it is rated. This week the Jackets meet Vanderbilt, which Kentucky trimmed by 21-13.

West Virginia

Playing with all the ear marks of a family feud, the Mountaineers trounced West Virginia Wesleyan by 35-0 in their opener. Next came Pitt and a 20-0 defeat as was expected. The mountain boys then moved shyly back onto the right side of the ledger with a 7-0 win over Cincinnati last week.

Tennessee

Tennessee 13, North Carolina State 0; Tennessee 40, Swannee 0; Tennessee 26, Chattanooga 0. Need more be said?

Any student may vote for president of the student body in Monday's election, but only men students vote for the man vice-president and only women students vote for woman vice president.

A majority of votes cast is required for election to these offices. If no candidate receives a majority, a run-off between the two highest will be held at the time of the legislative election. Monday's balloting will be held in the Union building with the Men's Student council and executive council of the Association of Women Students, which will be replaced when the Student Government set-up is completed, conducting the poll.

RALLY

Vogeler and Louis Iglehart who were leading the rally could not quiet the obstreperous mob which had once been a polite audience. The crowd, now composed largely of Greeks, yelled for Jimmy Wine, who has always been on his toes to champion fraternities. Wine fairly shot to the platform, countered Gragis' rap at fraternity organization by pointing out the Independent organization. He said that if there was one thing that fraternities stood for it was organization and that Gragis' crowd would get a taste of it Monday.

The rally as scheduled lasted a little over an hour. Each of the three parties with candidates in the field for Monday's balloting, were represented with banners, slogans, platforms, hecklers.

LYOYD RAMSEY

Today's "colonel" of the week, Lloyd Ramsey, is really a colonel. Last week Lloyd was appointed cadet colonel of the University ROTC regiment, the highest honor to be attained in the military department by a student.

Lloyd is president of the Physical Education club and has been very active in athletics. Last year he coached the swimming team and was elected captain this year. Having formerly played on the football team, "Feller" is acting as freshman football coach this season.

We would like to commend Lloyd for his many activities. He is on the Student Union board, vice-president of lamp and cross, captain of Scabbard and Blade and vice-president of Sigma Chi.

A surprise move although predicted by insiders, was a fraternity-independent lineup. The Student Government ticket. On this coalition ticket are Frelon Hunter, Independent, for president; Mary Lou McFarland, Kappa Delta, for woman's vice president; Joe Logan Masie, Kappa Alpha, for men's vice president. Lined up with this group was Harold Schildkraut who until press time had no officially withdrawn from the presidential race.

Most polished political speaker was the Independent association's candidate for president, Uhel Barrickman, who with exaggerated gestures and smooth references to the November gubernatorial election was clearly most at ease before the microphone and the partisan gathering.

Duty, Constitutional party presidential hopeful, outlined his party's platform, promised the overwhelmingly sympathetic crowd that he would make them a good president.

Hunter dark horse candidate in the Student Government ticket, called votes for him "investments in unaffiliated democracy." See page four for party lineups.

Calling 'Em Wild

By Joe Creason

Thoughts while thinking:

If Kentucky still isn't undefeated after tomorrow's football collision in Louisville with Georgia you can expect the moon to turn to green cheese, Charley McCarthy to lose his voice and me to turn down a chance to play post office with Myrna Loy.

That prediction is as certain as that your shadow will follow you.

But don't think that the game will be easy. Why bless you, it's likely to be as close as Noah and his passengers in his ark. Truth of the matter is that I'm filled with heavenly, double-dipped, hand embroidered, Chamber of Commerce enthusiasm when I think of this year's crop of Cats.

Kentucky has one thing to fear tomorrow that is worse than the entire Georgia squad—its own overconfidence. The bout, a Southeastern Conference game, will mark the first time this season that the Cats have favored in an important encounter. More than one good team, like a little boy with a new hammer, has cracked itself with over-confidence. So far Kentucky has steered clear of this internal interference.

Line Work unnoticed

There are two reasons why my enthusiasm has recently shot up like the curves on a fever chart:

1-The Kentucky backfield.

2-The Kentucky line.

So far this year most of the attention attending the Cats' success has been centered on the backfield, where the touchdown anemia of the 1938 season is definitely gone. Comparatively little space has been devoted to the work of the linemen, those guys who are in for a pounding on every play. Despite this fact, the line is as heavy as wet wash with low-charging, powerful men.

Unexpected Resistance

To criticize is like kissing, it costs

nothing and it's a lot of fun. And believe you me, before the season started the critics were certainly having a lot of fun with Kentucky's line, or as one fellow so aptly phrased it, Kentucky's lack of line. But critics, like weather reports, are often wrong and right about now those wise guys are discovering it's pretty hard to find a rebuttal for success.

And success, as statistics prove, is what the Cat line has been blessed with. In the three games to date the running attempts of the opposing teams have gone as unnoticed as an electric fan in a cyclone and but 139 yards and 12 first downs have been recorded.

Best In Years

Vanderbilt found trying to dent the line as futile as firing on Gibraltar with grape-shot and netted but 40 yards through rushing, while VMI found but 37 yards through the front door. Last week Oglethorpe set the season high mark with 62 yards gained from scrimmage. Past Cat grid history reveals that there have been few Kentucky lines that could patrol the beat between the two ends better than this year's corps, a direct compliment to the patient efforts of Line Coach Bernie Shiveley.

As a unit the streamlined Cat forwards are almost as mobile as average halfbacks and undoubtedly ly comprise one of the fastest lines in the South. While the front trench guardians average over 200 pounds they are able to throw their weight around with amazing speed and savvy. To date the longest gain through the line has been an 11 yard dash on a double reverse around right end by Pressley of Oglethorpe. But on that play the left tackle breezed all the way across the field and made the kill.

Running Offense Futile

In every game to date the opposing teams have opened with a hard running attack but after a few pokes at the iron-ribbed Kentucky middle, have resorted to some other offensive tactic. The Oglethorpe backs last Saturday, for instance, dance around like end men in a minstrel on their first few plays and literally buried themselves at holes that didn't open. But after the first quarter, when they began to appreciate how hard the Cats were tackling, they started running with the speed of a youngster carrying home a bad report card.

Now to get down to the case of tomorrow. If advance information is true, Georgia, as a team is as battered as an unclaimed parcel post package. Three regulars have been housing the miseries for a month and have missed the last two games. It's certainly not for the interests of their better health that these men will be sent against the rough and ready Cats.

Good Backs Galore

Heading the Georgia attack is Captain Vassa Care. Conference sprint champ and one of the fastest men in American football, Jim Fordham, called the best fullback in Bulldogs history, and Billy Mims, who they claim passes with the aim of The Decayer. Still, with a doubtful line in front of them, these ball carriers are practically useless, as their scoring for the season testifies.

Not since the first start of the season, have the Bulldogs crossed the last stripe. That deplorable situation may be summed up by borrowing that quaint Yiddish axiom, "long time, no score."

Kentucky's Cheerleaders . . .

FROSH CAGERS WILL SHOW STRENGTH

With the fine record established by last year's team to defend, Coach Paul McBrayer will issue the first enlistment call for freshman basketball timber 7:30 p. m. Tuesday in Alumni gym.

The success of last year's Kitten cage team rivaled that of the varsity. Starting slowly, the Kittens, rated as one of the poorest crops in years, finished fast and turned in a report card with nine wins and but a single defeat. That defeat, from Lindsey-Wilson Junior college, was avenged in a return game.

An abundance of material has been noted in school thus far. Included in the list expected to answer the first call are Mel Brewer, 6 foot, 5 inches, center, Clint Henry, who led the state high school scorers last season, and Dave Dillard, all-state forward from Idaho.

Other stars expected to report include Milton Tocco, Frank Eisen, Max Davis, Carl Garner, Clifford Barker, Lewis Robertson, Jess Thornton, Gene Harris, Bill Mera, Larry Leaman and Gerald Cundiff. Many other hopefuls are expected at the Tuesday night meeting.

KITTENS ARE SET FOR VANDY FRAY

Hard workouts in blocking and tackling were rationed to the Kentucky freshman football team this week as they prepared for the opening bout on their three game season, against Vanderbilt on October 27, at Stoll field.

A ruling by the Southeastern Conference allows the freshman teams of member schools to play but three freshman games. After the Vanderbilt game, the Kittens will meet the University of Cincinnati, here on November 11, and Tennessee in Knoxville on November 25.

While coaches Joe Rupert and Lloyd Ramsey sent the ends and backs through blocking practice, Coaching Gene Myers pitted the guards, tackles and centers against the tackling dummies. Later, with Jack Farris and Phil Cutchin punting, the linemen were rehearsed in getting down the field under kicks.

Great improvement has been shown by the Kitten team since they were rolled by the varsity, 50-0 in a regulation practice game a month ago. With a fast, elusive backfield operating behind a big, husky line, the Kittens are expected to produce one of the strongest freshman teams in several years. However, in their first game against Vanderbilt, the Kittens will be meeting a strong team that already has the experiences of two earlier games furrowed in its brow.

Pamphlet Helps Students Get Jobs

"Bargains in Brains" a booklet published annually by the University commerce employment association, has been instrumental in securing jobs for approximately 490 students during the seven years of its existence.

The pamphlet contains pictures, qualifications and summaries of the records of members of the association. Membership in the student maintained group is voluntary and is composed of seniors in the commerce college, or those seniors majoring in economics and secretarial practice.

According to W. A. Tolman, secretary of the employment group,

WILDCATS LEAP TO SIXTH PLACE

Kentucky's football Wildcats, currently the gossip of Dixie after three smashing wins, moved from 14th to 6th place among the nation's grid teams this week, according to the Williamson national rating system.

The University of Michigan, after a fine winning performance against Iowa, moved into first place by ousting last week's leader, Duke, who dropped to third. Of the top 15 teams, nine represent Southern schools, with Kentucky second only to Mississippi in the list.

In inheriting sixth place the Cats passed Alabama and Tennessee. Despite the apparent power of Tennessee, the Vols have played too many easy, simple-Simon teams to rate a higher niche than their berth in number 12. Alabama too, except for a 7-6 win over Fordham, has not faced a team that has forced the Crimson Tide to open up.

Meanwhile, Kentucky has defeated V. M. I., one of the Southern conferences most feared teams, and rolled all over Vanderbilt, who trimmed Rice, top team in the fast Southwestern league. Georgia, Kentucky's opponent tomorrow, was ranked 96th.

SAIL HALF A SHIP TO PORT? FANTASTIC!

On the nine mile sixth wave the freighter Flora Wyatt split in two, leaving John Orde with only the jagged bow of a ship, to command! . . . If you like sea yarns, turn to Richard Howells Watkins' story, Half a Ship, in this week's Post.

NEWEST TRICK IN FOOTBALL

Are those kicks that suddenly bounce out of bounds in the coffin corner sheer luck? No, sir! Football's latest trick is making 'em bounce out. Here's the story of the system that is putting The Post Back in Football, Franny Murray, former Penn star, tells the story.

A FIGHTIN' PARSON GOES TO WAR

Roaring, red-headed Rev. Praxiteles Swan was a mighty bad spot. Only the musketry stabilizing red in the night showed him the position of these Yankees. The Preacher Learns to Pray, a story by Col. John W. Thompson, Jr.

CATTLE ROUNDUP—1940 STYLE

Don't let the movies kid you that cattle roundups mean wild-eyed stunts and pool-shooting ahead of yelping cowboys. Donald Drough, author of this article, Ref's Comes From the Hills, takes you with him on a roundup in Montana and tells you what a steer's life is really like before he becomes a steak.

MR. ENOCH SETS HIS CAP FOR REVENGE

Mr. Enoch, the grumpy gnome in Room 607, certainly looked like a fugitive from a chugging picture. So Mr. Caldwell, the new hotel manager, decided to keep him out. A riveting story, Clashes Make the Man, by Nunnally Johnson.

GENTLEMEN PREFER HOOPSKIRTS

Della used enough chicken feed in making her hoopskirt to take care of twenty brooders. But it was worth it. When she met a jaded gentleman—with a fine black beard and gold teeth in his smile—M. G. Chute brings you the romantic story of The Lady and the Quince.

WHAT IS A FOREIGNER?

What happens when a family comes from Europe to make its fortune in America? How do the children and the children's children, rate-adjustments? Louis Adams traces a significant history of one such family, in The Woman From Cordoba.

WHO...

— at 64, is England's Man of the Hour?

— scented the Nazi danger from the start and became the implacable enemy of Britain's policy of "appeasement"?

— was so feared for his brilliance they said, "There will hardly be room for him in Parliament at 30 or in England at 40"?

— fought in Cuba, India, Egypt and South Africa; became a world hero at 25 for his daring escape from a prison camp?

— bottled up Germany in 1914 by mobilizing Britain's Navy, on his own initiative, before the official declaration of war?

— personally took the blame for Britain's disastrous expedition against the Dardanelles?

— was once tabbed "too clever to be trusted," and yet now is the one man in whom the whole Empire puts its faith?

For years he has been the greatest single force in English political life. But how well do you know him as a person? An American friend and noted commentator brings you a memorable and intimate portrait of him in this week's Post.
